

ADRIAN WHITFIELD QC – 3 SERJEANTS' INN, LONDON

Adrian Whitfield QC, after reading Litterae Humaniores at Oxford, was called to the Bar at Middle Temple in 1964, and took silk in 1983. Starting in general common law practice, he gradually came to specialise in all aspects of medical law. Over the years he has variously served as Recorder, Deputy High Court Judge and Chairman of the National Health Service Tribunal. He was Treasurer of Middle Temple in 2005. He has for many years been a member of Middle Temple Education Committee, and was Director of Middle Temple Advocacy for a period of three years. He has recently retired from practice, but maintains his interest in the training of advocacy.
