

Privacy notice for the processing of data connected to the arbitral procedure

(updated on July 16th, 2020)

The Milan Chamber of Arbitration S.r.l., with registered office in Milan, Via Meravigli n.9/b – 20123, fiscal code and VAT number 05121020969, and in its capacity of data controller (hereinafter the “Controller”), informs you that, your personal data will be treated in accordance with the EU Regulation 2016/679 (“GDPR”) and with the current national legislation on the protection of personal data. Your data will be processed in the following ways and for the following purposes:

1. Subject-matter of data processing

The Controller processes the personal data collected from you, from you attorney and from the other parties to the proceedings during the various phases of the arbitration procedure (hereinafter, “Data” or “Personal Data”) such as:

- name, last name, address, email address, telephone number, profession, billing data, etc., which refer to the parties and/or to their attorneys;
- any other data, also of special nature, contained in the documents produced during the arbitration procedure.

2. The purposes and the legal basis of data processing

Your personal data is processed without your previous consent for the following purposes and legal basis:

- the performance of a task carried out in the public interest, and especially for:
 - properly carrying out the various stages of the arbitral procedure;
 - the publication of arbitral awards in anonymous form, unless one or more parties indicate otherwise within 30 days from the award being filed.
- the performance of contractual obligations, and especially for:
 - the management of the contractual relationship related to the arbitration procedure;
 - the management of receipts, payments and consequent invoicing.
- the compliance with legal obligations of the Controller, derived from national and EU regulations, as well as those resulting from legal dispositions specified by authorities empowered to do so by law, with specific reference to arbitration regulations.
- the pursuit of a legitimate interest of the Controller, especially to:
 - exercise the rights of the Controller before a court and for the management of disputes, as well as for the prevention and the repression of illegal acts: the interest of the Controller corresponds to the right of action, guaranteed by the Italian Constitution (art. 24 of the Const.) and as such, it is socially recognized as prevailing on the interests of a single data subject.
 - To invite you to participate in surveys and anonymous polls regarding your satisfaction with the services offered by The Controller in relation to the arbitral procedure.

3. Data retention period

The Controller processes your personal data for the time necessary to fulfil the above-mentioned purposes and in any case for no longer than 10 years from the termination of the contractual relationship. Differently, the data contained in arbitral awards is retained without time limit.

4. Conferral of Data

The conferral of personal data is necessary to initiate and continue the arbitration proceedings.

5. Access to Data

Your data will be accessible, for the above-mentioned purposes, to:

- employees and/or collaborators of the Controller, in their capacity of authorized subjects to data processing and/or data processors and/or system administrators.
- companies affiliated to the Chamber of Commerce of Milan Monza Brianza Lodi and other third parties (for example: suppliers, IT, etc.) who carry out activities of outsourcing on behalf of the Controller and who will process data in their capacity of data processors.

6. Data communication

For the above-mentioned purposes, your data will be communicated to the arbitrators or to the nominated arbitration panel and anonymously published on the occasion of the publication of arbitral awards. Your personal data may also be communicated, without your prior consent, for the above-mentioned purposes to Public Administrations or competent authorities, who will process the data at their request, in their capacity of independent data controllers, as well as to third parties such as, for example, experts who will process data in their capacity of independent data controllers.

7. Data transfer

Your data could be transferred outside the EU, in the event that one of the parties to the arbitration proceeding resides outside the EU. In such circumstances, the transfer of the data is made on the basis of the exception provided for in Article 49(1)(c) and (d) of the GDPR.

8. Rights of the data subject

The Controller informs you that, as a data subject, if the limitations provided for by the law do not apply, you have the rights provided for by art. 15 et seq. GDPR (access, rectification, cancellation, restriction of processing, data portability and objection) that can be exercised by sending a registered mail, with return receipt, to the address of the Controller or a certified email to camera.arbitrale@legalmail.it. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Italian Data Protection Authority.

9. Data protection officer

The Controller has designated a Data Protection Officer available at the following e-mail address dpo.camarb@mi.camcom.it.
