Time is money, and quality is the currency of international arbitration: can we get it all?

Balancing speed and quality – while controlling costs – is the central ambition of arbitral institutions. In an interactive discussion Stefano Azzali (CAM), Alice Fremuth-Wolf (VIAC), Annette Magnusson (SCC) and Francesca Mazza (DIS) will share their experiences on how to balance speed and quality in arbitral proceedings administered under their rules. Join us for a look behind the scenes at how these four leading institutions deal with this challenge in times of the Covid-19 pandemic, which places particular demands on all stakeholders in the arbitral process.

The seminar is free of charge. Please join us, using the log-in details below.
